

Use your Roundabout Ruler to Create Large, Graceful Scallops...

To any table runner or quilt attach a border measuring at least 6.5" for use with the 24" Roundabout Ruler or at least 9.5" for use with the 36" Roundabout Ruler.

Using the scalloping line on your Roundabout Ruler, or using the points to approximate placement, mark the outside edge of your Roundabout Ruler with chalk or removable marking pencil / pen.

It is suggested that you test any water or air soluble marker on a scrap of your fabric prior to marking your quilt binding...be sure the color will come out completely before proceeding!

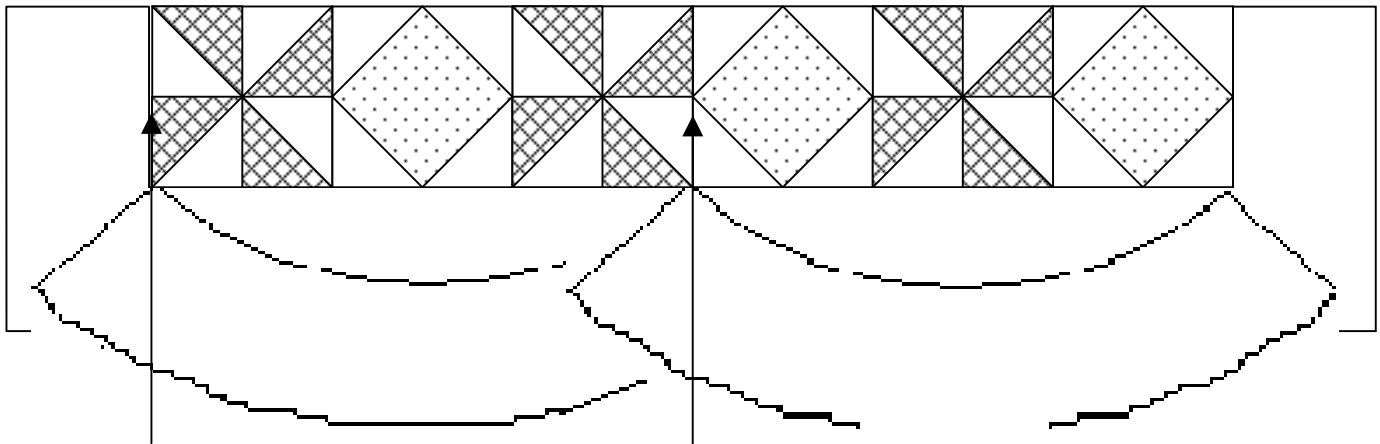

Using the following placement suggestions as a guide, determine the size and number of scallops that will be most attractive on your quilt project.

The 24" Roundabout Ruler points will align with the seam lines on an accurately sewn 12" finished block, as shown.

12" total

The 36" Roundabout Ruler points will align with the seam lines on an accurately sewn 18" segment – either 3) 6" finished blocks, an 18" finished block, or with a combination of a seam line and the center point of the adjoining block on 12" finished squares.

18" total
